Marchiano's Bakery has managed to keep the wholesome and tasty touch of the old country. Frank Marchiano attributes his success to recipes created over a generation ago. His mother, Nunziata, a native of a small village in southern Italy called Aciri, located in the region of Calabria, used to bake breads in the basement of her little row house in the very European neighborhood of Philadelphia known as Manayunk.

Specialty Breads

It's a meal! A small loaf of Italian bread, filled with a blend of cheeses, hardy ingredients, and seasonings. Handmade and oven baked, the bread is a family recipe going back four generations. It isn't pizza dough but real bread with "the pull" you'd expect from authentic Italian bread.

Specialty Breads are available in 8 different varieties. Please note, Specialty Breads will come FROZEN.
